

Left Large Intestine
Developing flow

Begins 6am
at Index finger nail (lateral)

LARGE INTESTINE FUNCTION DEVELOPING ENERGY

At 6 a.m. at the medial (inner or thumb) side/tip of the index fingernail the left Lung Developing Energy Flow changes into the left Large Intestine Developing Flow. From this point it flows down between thumb & index finger, passing through the "web" between the tendons of the thumb & side of hand. Flows down the posterior (back) side of the arm along radius. Descends along anterior (front) border of the upper arm to the highest point of the shoulder. Goes across top of shoulder on the back; and at the first thoracic vertebra passes under the spine and out to right side. The left and right flows meet and co-mingle under TV 1.

The left flow moves around right side of neck, down into right chest, rises up to skin surface and separates into two flows at right #13, "A" & "B".

about 15 mm (1/2 inch) from right side of umbilicus (navel), makes a half circle and disperses outside left large intestine.

Circulates (curves around) right side of face, comes back out to the right side of the mouth, then flows under (between nose and upper lip) the nostrils, out to left side of the nostril, along side of the left cheek bone (SEL 21) and turns into the flow that creates the left Stomach Function Developing Energy at 8 AM.
